INTERNSHIP OVERVIEW:

Mahan Rykiel Associates (MRA) is looking for dedicated, engaged, and collaborative personalities to join our internship team. Interns will have the opportunity to contribute to MRA projects, gaining meaningful professional and personal experience including research, design, drafting, field work, stakeholder engagement, and more. Responsibilities of interns shift to meet client and project needs and vary based on the type and phase of work. Central to this experience is learning - both for the intern and the office. An annual design research exercise captures the spirit of this two-way learning and is a hallmark of the MRA internship program.

The internship program typically runs for 10-12 weeks, but can be adjusted to meet the needs of applicant and/or project schedules.
